What is the purpose of a beneficiary?

If you intend for some or all of your death benefit to go to specific individuals, it is important to make sure that you plan ahead and select those beneficiaries. Having an up-to-date beneficiary designation will make this possible by listing your primary and contingent beneficiaries and intended allocations.

Beneficiary: the person, people or entity who will receive any death benefit from the basic or optional coverage you have selected through your group benefits plan that becomes payable upon your death. Basic and optional beneficiaries may differ.

Types of beneficiary – Primary vs. Contingent

Primary: the person, people or entity you choose to receive the death benefits. If you choose more than one beneficiary, you will need to indicate what percentage of the benefit you would like each person to receive. When multiple primary beneficiaries are named, the total of the percentages allocated to each primary beneficiary must add up to 100%.

Contingent: the person, people or entity you designate to receive the death benefits if all of the primary beneficiaries die before you. If you select more than one contingent beneficiary, the benefit will be split evenly between the contingent beneficiaries.

What happens to the death benefit when...

The primary beneficiary dies before you and no contingent beneficiary is named.	The death benefit will be paid to your estate.
The primary beneficiary dies before you, but there is a contingent beneficiary(ies) designated.	The benefit will be paid to the contingent beneficiary(ies).
You assign two primary beneficiaries, and one beneficiary dies before you, and you have not updated your beneficiary form information.	The entire death benefit that would have been paid to the deceased beneficiary will be paid to the surviving primary beneficiary.

Irrevocable vs. Revocable

Irrevocable: the beneficiary you choose cannot be changed without the written permission of that individual. For example, if you choose your spouse or partner to be the designated beneficiary and you end up separating, you will not be able to change the beneficiary designation without a completed release form from them.

In Quebec, naming your spouse (must be a civil union) as a beneficiary automatically means that he/she is an irrevocable beneficiary, unless you specify otherwise or divorce.

Revocable: A revocable beneficiary means that the beneficiary you choose can be changed at any time without the permission of that individual.

For example, if you choose your spouse or partner to be the designated beneficiary and you end up separating, you can then change that beneficiary designation without asking for that person's permission.

Naming a minor as a beneficiary

If a benefit becomes payable to a minor who is named as a primary or contingent beneficiary, the benefit can only be paid on behalf of the minor to a trustee or guardian for property; otherwise, it will be paid into court to be held until the beneficiary has reached the age of majority for your specific province. It is important, therefore, if you are choosing a beneficiary who is a minor at the time of the designation, to also name a trustee.

If you are a Quebec resident, the parents are considered tutors of their child.

If a minor has been designated as an irrevocable beneficiary, the policy is automatically frozen until the beneficiary has reached the age of majority for your specific province. A parent, guardian or trustee cannot consent to a beneficiary change on behalf of a minor.

Minor: a person named as a beneficiary who is under the age of majority for your specific province.

Trustee: a person appointed by you to hold the minor's proceeds in trust until the minor reaches the age of majority for your specific province.

Tutor: a tutor acts like a trustee.
